

Democratic Teacher Works With Parents To Produce Citizens

A review of an address at the Ontario Educational Association by Mrs. M. Davis of the Canadian Association of Social Workers was given to Newmarket public school board by Principal H. A. Jackson at a meeting on Friday evening. The subject was: "Juvenile Delinquency and Suggested Remedies."

"The aspects of juvenile delinquency are today exceedingly complicated because of the war," said Mr. Jackson. "A too ready acceptance by the public of superficial causes is apparent. The causes of juvenile delinquency very frequently lie deeply hidden."

"Some of the more important of these causes are:
"1. Deficiency in health and lack of suitable recreation.
"2. Strains and disturbances in the home, such as poverty, incompatibility, drunkenness and the like. Financial distress is a most disturbing factor to children, even more so than a great many people realize."

"3. Lawlessness in adults contributes to lawlessness in children. Tax evasions and infractions of traffic regulations are cited as examples, as well as shady deals by merchants, lawyers, etc.
"4. Parents are concerned but too often are too taken up with their own problems to assist in reform."

"Bravado in a child signifies unhappiness. It is used because of lack of love, and of a feeling of insecurity, both of which parents are able to supply.
"A child's material wants should be met. He should be given a sense of his own worth.
"Preventative measures are:
"1. Social security.
"2. Educational program by radio for adults.
"3. Training in mental hygiene for adults."

"4. A more flexible curriculum to meet the needs and tastes of the child with a tendency to delinquency.
"5. Careful early testing of the child.
"6. A visiting teacher to go to the homes of delinquent children. Such a teacher might be attached to several schools in a community."

"7. Development of a closer relationship between various social organizations in a community.
"8. Diagnosis and treatment in mental hygiene.
"9. The establishment of juvenile bureaus in police departments.
"10. Extension of juvenile courts. Separate places of detention for youths.
"11. Improved educational facilities for various degrees of mental development.
"12. The establishment of spe-
"13. The establishment of spe-

den who have the urge to get a job.
"13. The delinquent child's parent has failed him. The teacher is to take the place of that parent to make the child feel important by encouragement."

"14. Plan co-operatively with the parent."

Democracy in School
Mr. Jackson gave also a review of an address by Dr. S. R. Laycock, of the University of Saskatchewan, on "When is there Democracy in a Classroom?"

"Democracy is an expression of the cornerstone of Christianity," said Mr. Jackson. "Christianity is reverence for personality."

"Many teachers produce fascists in the class-room," Mr. Jackson quoted. "Teaching objectives are honesty, respect, tolerance, understanding, etc."

"The democratic teacher likes and respects pupils, and enjoys being with her pupils. Without the giving of self, not much good can be done."

"The democratic teacher regards all pupils irrespective of ability as worthy of her best efforts. She uses the results of intelligence tests to help pupils. There is help for the bright ones as well as the dull ones, that is, equality of opportunity. She makes provision for individual differences."

"The democratic teacher plays no favorites with race, social position, nationality or creed. Discrimination breeds insecurity. The Jew, for example, feels insecure."

"The democratic teacher looks on discipline as a problem in teaching children how to live and work with each other. Self-direction and self-control are the goal. Misconduct is a symptom of social maladjustment. Scolding, force and fear are not discipline."

"Punishment should have regard to the welfare of pupils. Sarcasm and ridicule should be abolished. The teacher should not use studies as a punishment. Corporal punishment is a last resort."

"The democratic teacher teaches children not the subject-matter but the subject-matter as a means to promote the growth of children. She encourages co-operative groups to pursue an interest or solve a problem. The lecture method is used by the undemocratic teacher."

"The democratic teacher gives guidance and counsel but doesn't dominate in co-curricular activities. Games provide an opportunity to understand children and provide a stimulus for intellectual growth."

"Democratic living is learned outside as well, in social services, Red Cross campaigns, salvage collections, etc. These activities should be a partnership between the child and the adult."

"The democratic teacher realizes interdependence with the parents. The full development of the child is a team job. The democratic teacher interviews parents, holds open days, uses the Home and School Association and report cards."

Mr. Jackson concluded with the quotation: "Schools cannot be much better than the parents and public who own them."

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD ADOPTS SALARY PLAN

Following a request made by the teaching staff some months ago, Newmarket public school board has adopted a salary schedule.

Minimums and maximums are as follows: supervising principal, $1,500; $2,500; assistant principals, $1,500; $2,100; men teachers, $1,000; $1,800; women teachers, $1,000; $1,800. Yearly increments of $50 to $100 are to be given within these limits if and as the board sees fit.

Teachers of special subjects such as manual training, household science, art, etc., are to receive $100 per year more than regular teachers.

The board appointed Barbara J. Sutcliffe, Toronto, to fill a vacancy on the staff in September, at a meeting in the council chamber on Friday evening.

Secretary R. L. Pritchard reported that he was inquiring whether the board's insurance would cover a playground accident to Miss Jessie D. McPherson, when a ball broke her glasses and injured her face.

Bernard McHale, chairman of St. John's separate school board, was present to request that the public school board accept next year in manual training and household science classes a maximum of ten, but more likely six or seven, grade eight pupils from St. John's.

Whether the room was available would depend on transfers and promotions, Principal H. A. Jackson said. "Members of the board promised to take the students provided that accommodation could be arranged."

There was also comment on the division of the students into three evenly matched teams, which completed the field day in the following order: red, blue, silver.

Public Address Systems Suggested For Schools

A public-address system for the Newmarket schools was suggested by Inspector O. M. MacKillop, Richmond Hill, as a "project for the future," at a meeting of the Newmarket public school board on Friday evening.

"Thornhill today opened a public-address system in its three-room school," said Mr. MacKillop. It was a one-way system and cost $306, he said.

"I regard that as a very forward step," said Mr. MacKillop. He said that it could be used to broadcast to the school's three rooms an announcement or talk by the principal or a visitor, or a phonograph recording or a radio broadcast.

Mr. MacKillop congratulated the board on sending teachers to the Ontario Educational Association meeting and on adopting a salary schedule.

He discussed with the board the establishment of an auxiliary class for retarded pupils. "Children are often over-age for their classes because of maladjustment rather than because of inferior ability," he said. "The class requires a specially trained teacher."

Mr. MacKillop said that there was going to be "a definite swelling in teachers' salaries in September as a result of the scarcity of teachers. In some country schools it is quite common to increase salaries this year from $1,000 to $1,300."

"Our salaries don't jump but we feel that they may be more permanent compared with schools where they may lower the salaries again when teachers become more plentiful," said Chairman Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards.

The final meeting of the Newmarket Home and School Association took place on Tuesday, May 30, at the Stuart Scott school. After the singing of the national anthem, Miss Marion Brammer presented her rhythm band composed of pupils from her room, a number keenly enjoyed by all.

The business meeting followed. Reports of standing committees were presented. Mrs. N. L. Matthews reported that there are now 81 paid members. Mrs. H. E. Gilroy said that home talents were utilized as far as possible and itemized the monthly programs.

POST-WAR "MUST"

Who wouldn't live in the country these days? Surely there is no place nicer to live at this time of the year than in a country town or village or on a farm.

As spring ripens into summer, however, we who live in Newmarket or Aurora will become conscious again of one great lack, a place to swim. A seven-days-a-week swimming pool would make either of these inland towns the ideal place to live, provide unending recreation for our young people, and solve more juvenile delinquency problems than ten tons of newspaper. Swimming will build strong and healthy men and women. The cost of a properly constructed and protected pool is considerable (variously estimated at $5,000 to $15,000), but, in view of the number of people a pool can serve, the return is great. The cost of upkeep and necessary attendants might be $1,000 a season or more, but a small charge to adults would cover it. A swimming pool is a post-war "must" for each of these forward-looking youth-filled North York towns.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

PUBLIC LIFE IS HARD

(By Hugh Templin in the Fergus News-Record. Mr. Templin introduced John Bracken at the recent Ontario-Quebec Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association meeting in Niagara Falls.)

How does any man stand a life like that, month after month? And why does anyone choose public life as a career?

In Mr. Bracken's case, we know the answer to the second question. He told us, in our talk before the dinner, that when he graduated from the O.A.C., he had but one ambition—to return to Leeds county and become the best farmer in the county. He went west on a government job because of the money they offered him—and it was not such a lot, at that. Then he became a professor and then the president of a college. One can understand choices like that. But he was drafted into politics in Manitoba. It was put up to him that he had a duty to perform and no one could do it as well as he could. Those statements were probably true. He held the parties in Manitoba together for 20 years without friction. He was a Liberal then and had several parties in his cabinet, and he led them all.

Sixteen months ago, the Conservative party, meeting in Winnipeg, was looking for a leader, a man to take on a rather forlorn-hope job. They turned to Premier John Bracken and again he was more or less conscripted. He took the job of rejuvenating the old party on condition that some radical changes were made, including a change of name to Progressive-Conservative. We think the name is awkward, and we know some old-time Tories tend to froth at the mouth when they utter it, but the name is supposed to mean what it says while Mr. Bracken leads the party.

He spoke mainly on post-war problems. There was plenty of common sense in his points, nothing with any political bias, nothing to which anyone could take exception. We think he would make a good prime minister of Canada, and we do not doubt that as he goes around the country, he will find many good men willing to run at the next election as his followers. He makes an excellent impression when he talks to a single person or a small group—better, we think, than from the platform. He is a patriot, and we do not envy him his task. We wouldn't take a job like that for a million dollars. But we still admire him for taking it.

THE COMMON ROUND DISTRICT ANNUAL

Trinity United church saw a particularly large and representative gathering on May 31 when women of the various Institutes in the district gathered to hear, mark, learn and inwardly digest the many fine things which were brought before them. The meeting opened with the singing of God Save the King, O Canada and the Institute Ode and repetition of the Creed in unison.

Mrs. Sinclair then called on Mr. Cotton, who gave the address of welcome, and all Institutes who have heard Mr. Cotton on other occasions knew that what he had to say would be worthwhile.

Mr. Cotton thanked the members for the work they are doing for the boys overseas and then quoted largely from our queen's address to the women of the empire. The queen said that a sense of humor had helped the women of Britain to endure it keeps guard over our sanity and our souls. There is an always tremendous let-down after a war and the post-war world offers a challenge.

Mr. Cotton spoke of women's place in the post-war world. In his opinion, there is a LIMITED in industry and politics. He does not think women can be riveters or whatever and then go home and be good homemakers, nor does he think any man coming back will want to be a housekeeper while his wife earns the living.

Keeping the home and looking after the family is a full-time job for any woman. He thinks there would be less juvenile delinquency and also adult ditto, if this were kept in mind.

He believes women find their greatest happiness as mothers and homemakers. Our greatest post-war problem will be to find jobs for the men and women in the services and in war plants.

One in every six persons will be so engaged and war work stops with war. This will be the colossal task before Canada, and men will want MEN'S work. Men should be the providers, women the homemakers.

Your scribe replied briefly, saying, after thanking Mr. Cotton and expressing appreciation of his address, that the war had turned the Institutes from local and national organizations to a world-wide sisterhood—that we had learned with Mr. Kipling that all women in every part of the world "were sisters under the skin" with the same ideals and aspirations as ourselves; and that their needs would spur us to greater efforts and make us more worthy of the good things said of us.

Mrs. Sinclair, our president, followed with a splendid address on "Today's challenge to women." She said: "While every section of every community is responsible for a part in filling the country's needs, we will consider today our part as members of the Women's Institutes. There are a great many angles, but two seem most important, significant and hopeful. There is first her membership in what was once only a neighborhood gathering but is now not only a local and provincial, but a world-wide movement of great influence and standing."

"Then there is a woman's home interest, where her personality plays a great part. In the first she is the co-operator in her wishes to the common purpose; she is the individual in the home where the happiness, the welfare and often the life of the family depend on her. The challenge today is to all women, us to all men, from the young to the old. The times are abnormal."

"There are real world problems demanding attention; and for which we hope a solution may be found. 'Most of us are hoping for reforms of social injustice and of the greedy and selfish use of the earth's bounty, under the so-called new order. 'We must guard against attacks on our civilization and lay plans now, while the world is in conflict, for a better world in the future. 'Reconstruction plans are now on the agenda. We all want the CAUSES of war removed; we want a fair distribution of what comes out of the earth; we do not want undue privileges or lack of security or selfishness between nations. 'It would seem only just that every man woman and child brought into the world should be able to have a sufficient portion of the earth's surface to grow his food and have the materials out of which to make a home. 'Mary Stewart in her wonderful collect, warned us against our faults, that we may be delivered from pettiness and fault-finding and that we may have courage and faith. Our organization has achieved a sisterhood of rural women. We meet together to do useful things and we are educating ourselves."

"Leadership is prized and taken seriously. We have placed the study of home problems foremost in our endeavours and have distinguished ourselves from other women's groups, for agriculture is the basic industry and the farm home the very centre of that industry."

"The advantages of organization are manifold and its possibilities endless. Our Institute is both a machine and a development, both a goal and an influence. Many of the questions of today are intimate and personal. Each woman must choose a path for herself. No matter what outside influences are brought to bear, she can make her own choice as to the right."

"Courage is the most essential quality, if we are to give essential service to our country and in our homes. 'We are often cowards in the face of what people will say, but it's in our power to discourage unkind and often untrue rumors and stories. We must make our own decisions—no one can be our confidante."

Mrs. Sinclair closed with these words: I would be true, for there are those who trust me. I would be pure for there are those who care. I would be strong, for there is much to suffer. I would be brave, for there is much to dare. I would be friend to all, the foe, the friendless. I would be giving and forget the gift; I would be humble for I know my weakness. I would look up, and laugh, and love, and live.

Next came the secretaries' reports. The Institutes represented were Aurora, Belhaven, Elmhurst Beach, Elmgrove, Gormley, Kettleby, King City, Laskay, Lakeside, Mount Albert, Newmarket, Temperanceville, Pine Orchard, Pefferlaw, Queensville, Roche's Point, Schomberg, Nobleton, Sharon, Snowball and Vandonr.

It seemed to me that the reports were of even higher quality than usual, the programs were so varied and so truly educational. A study of the United Nations was on one agenda, the history of a farm from the crown grant to present owner, battle areas in Africa, assistance to libraries, first aid and home nursing, birds, and a hundred other things—all this in addition to the usual work of an Institute and an amount of war work truly amazing.

Refugees, immigration and citizenship were also subjects discussed, while some Institutes kept in touch with England, and so had first hand knowledge of problems there.

In addition to war work for others, our own boys were looked after in a manner to warm their hearts and to tell them in no uncertain terms how much they are in the hearts and lives of the home folk.

Miss Clark, president of Ontario Institutes, gave a splendid talk. She said she looked forward to these D.A.'s because they gave her a chance to mingle more intimately with the members than in the big conventions.

She said usually before these D.A.'s she received a flood of letters with gloomy news of various W.I.'s, but some way they usually cleared up and she could enjoy her visits. She quoted Dickens' introduction to his "Tale of Two Cities" as being an almost exact parallel of today.

"We must keep before us the objectives for which we are organized. Our W.I.'s have proved their value—they would have died had they not done their duty—fulfilled their purpose. We must look back with critical eyes, sift the good from the bad and find where W.I. strength lies."

"It lies within the Institutes themselves. We make or break our own Institutes, individually, and good programs, timely and varied, must be kept up, in spite of war work."

"We must be thinking women—must study citizenship, refugee problems and all phases of rural conditions in Canada."

"English Institutes keeping up their educational programs and study of post-war conditions should be an inspiration to us."

"We must cultivate community neighborliness and give real attention to youth, otherwise the future of Canada will suffer."

She was proud of the amount of jam and seeds already sent and in the sending to Britain. She stressed the quality of W.I.

leadership. It must be taken seriously and new leaders developed. Talent should be given every chance to show itself and see that all prospective leaders have a chance to take an active part in work.

Leaders are needed in provincial work. We must search out new members and interest youth in the W.I. Personal contact will often effect an interest when other means fail.

Loyalty to officers is a foundation stone in all Institutes. We must remember we are both a national and international organization. We should read the federated news and keep in personal touch, if possible, with Institutes in other countries. International understanding is going to help most in the new world order. Our W.I. is one of the best experiments in co-operation.

The brief bag was presented to Temperanceville. Mrs. Farren said the deciding factor was the fact that while doing the same amount of war work as other Institutes, this one had also kept up a splendid educational program. After we had refreshed the inner man, or rather woman, we saw a very interesting display of handicraft put on by Mr. Renzius.

I should have said that a very pleasant break came in the morning when Mrs. S. Fierheller of Aurora sang two numbers, "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "Rose of Tralee."

Mrs. Reed brought greetings from the provincial board and hoped there would be greater support of it and of the central fund. She hoped we would send our contributions to the various war charities through this fund. She also advised reading the federated news and functions of standing committees.

Miss Rose spoke on girls' work and clubs, what they have accomplished and her hope that more clubs will start. She asked for the support of parents and W.I. for this work which is valuable in many ways and helps the girls to achieve successful community living.

It was stressed by both Miss Clark and Mrs. Reed that all fees should be sent to Mrs. Marchant in time for her to make out her report and all convenors should send reports in in good time.

Mrs. Marchant, whose excellent reports are always, to me, a real highlight of the D.A., was sadly handicapped this year by neglect of this duty by some responsible for her receiving reports.

It was moved that a donation be given to York County hospital for the new wing.

A delightful piano duet was rendered by the little Misses Jerry McDonald and Doris Wilson, of King, pupils of Miss Dorothy Armstrong. These two should be a future duet team for larger audiences.

A vote of thanks to Mrs. Sinclair, who retires this year and whose work has been outstanding, and to Mrs. Marchant was moved and seconded, also votes of thanks to Mr. Renzius, to the church board and caretaker and to those taking part in the program.

Mrs. Boak, our new president, was called to the platform. The officers, with the exception of the president, whose term of office had expired, were returned. The meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem.

BRAY CHICKS

"the best I ever had"

That's what many buyers of Bray Chicks write the Bray Hatcheries every season. Here's part of a letter from George Rossow, Pembroke, Ont., for instance:

"I must say that Bray Chicks are the best I have ever had. They have lots of pep and vigor."

From Florence, N.S., Ben C. Ross writes to tell us:

"The birds I got from you last year were the best that ever came down here. I never lost one of them, and what layers!"

Robert Wade, Sussex Corner, N.B., tells the same story. He writes:

"We had 210 White Leghorns of your stock last year. They are great layers."

Would a flock of the kind that makes people sit down and write letters like that fill the bill for you? We believe they would!

The Effect of the "HOURS OF WORK AND VACATIONS WITH PAY ACT 1944" ON BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY IN ONTARIO

ON JULY 1st, 1944, the "Hours of Work and Vacations With Pay Act, 1944" becomes effective in the Province of Ontario.

While it is the purpose of this Act to provide improved conditions for all workers employed in industry in this Province, it will be obvious that the provisions of the Act cannot be permitted, at this time, to interfere with the all-out capacity effort required in producing material for war.

The Industry and Labour Board, which will administer the Act, therefore, considers, in view of the present acute manpower shortage and the vital demands of war, that the application of the Act should be postponed and working conditions in force at present should not be arbitrarily changed.

The Board therefore authorizes the continuance of Existing Working Hours in all industries operating on priority War Material in the Province of Ontario.

Industries engaged in Agriculture, Horticulture, Fishing and the Production of Foods and Farm Products; Dairying Industries including cheese and butter; Firms engaged in the building and upkeep of roads, construction, transportation, textiles and other undertakings which can be considered essential to the full maintenance of the war effort, shall be considered in the category of War Industries insofar as their present working hours are concerned.

Preparation of the groundwork for the operation and application of the Act will go forward immediately but the Industry and Labour Board wishes it to be understood that these preparations will not be permitted to interfere in any way with existing working conditions in vital industry as long as the present crisis exists.

TAKE VOWS AT CHURCH WEDDING

People's church, Bloor St., Toronto, was the setting for the wedding on Saturday of Jean Ellen Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Hammond, Toronto, and John Clarence Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Baldwin, Queensville. Rev. Oswald J. Smith officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white brocade satin, with a fitted bodice and full gathered skirt. A Dutch cap of lace caught her finger-tip veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath.

Miss Marie Baldwin attended as maid of honor, Miss Betty Billings and Miss Catherine Baxter, as bridesmaids, and Miss Joy Swallow as flower girl. The senior attendants wore pink chenille taffeta, with matching flowers forming their headresses. Their bouquets were pink roses, cornflowers and white sweet peas.

The groomsmen were Pte. Eddred Turner and Donald MacMillan.

The bride's mother received in a mauve ensemble and the groom's mother chose blue crepe with accents of navy, for the occasion.

For going away the bride donned a blue crepe frock with a matching hat.

The home of the bride's parents was the setting for the wedding of Lois Helen Whitfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Whitfield, Thornbury, and Douglas Rae McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McClure, Newmarket, last Thursday. Rev. C. G. McPhee officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a white silk jersey dress with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Miss Marion Franklin, Aurora, attended the bride, and wore a blue silk jersey dress with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Bruce Lehman, Markham, was best man.

In Memoriam

Williamson—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Douglas Williamson, who passed away June 8, 1940.

No stain was on his little heart,
Sin had not entered there;
And innocence slept sweetly on
That pale white brow so fair.
He was too pure for this cold earth,
Too beautiful to stay,
And so God's holy angels bore
Our darling one away.
Ever remembered by father,
Mother and brothers.

LIGHTS AND BELL ARE CROSSING PROPOSALS

"Two flashing lights and a pedestrian bell," were recommended for the Wellington St. railway crossing in a letter from the dominion board of transport commissioners which was read to Aurora town council by Clerk A. C. A. Willis on Monday evening.

The letter stated that all movements over the industrial spur should be flagged by a member of the train crew. Forty percent of the cost of the installation would be paid out of the grade crossing fund, and the rest of the cost would be paid by the railway and the town.

The council was asked to make further comments when it receives estimates of the cost.

A letter from the National Trust Co. said that that company "is one of the executors of the H. W. Fleury estate and is interested in the Fleury home and adjoining properties on Yonge St. in Aurora." The letter said that "considerable damage has been done to the property by boys from the town," and that "it seems to us that as substantial taxpayers in the town we are entitled to have protection for the property."

Mayor Ross Linton said that the town could not patrol the property, and could only institute a prosecution if furnished with the names of the offenders.

Mrs. E. M. Hacking, 3 Metcalfe St., thanked the council by letter for removal of a tree from her property.

Councillor Rod. V. Smith was absent from the council meeting because of his semi-annual trip to Kirkland Lake and Timmins.

EXTINGUISHER SAVES
HIS MAJESTY'S MAIL

T. F. McMullen, Newmarket, carrier of His Majesty's mails between Toronto and Newmarket, backed his big mail truck up to the back door of the Richmond Hill post office on Monday afternoon, and took some mail into the post office.

Looking out from his office across the street, R. H. Kane noticed suspiciously some wisps of smoke coming from under the engine hood as Mr. McMullen got out of the truck. Mr. Kane looked at the truck a few minutes later and noticed that the smoke was increasing. He ran to the back door of the post office, found it locked, hammered on it until admitted, and summoned Mr. McMullen.

Mr. McMullen opened the engine hood and found the carburetor in flames. He took a small fire extinguisher from his truck and in a few minutes had the fire out. The mail for Aurora, Newmarket and northern parts of the county was saved.

Bostwick, Vanderford, and the late Mr. Bostwick, was united in marriage to L.-Cpl. Stephen Thomas Komar, formerly of Hamilton. Rev. E. C. Moddle officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Earl Davis, Midland, was gownned in white sheer marquisette brocade in lily-of-the-valley and white orchids. She wore a finger-tip tulle illusion veil, caught by orange blossoms, and carried a cascade of Briarcliff crimson roses.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, as matron of honor, gownned in floor-length pink brocade georgette over taffeta. The bridesmaids were Mrs. H. Copeland, Toronto, sister of the groom, in floor-length net over mauve taffeta, and Miss Marion von Nostrand, in pastel green silk tulle over taffeta. The attendants carried lily-of-the-valley and forget-me-not nosegays.

The best man was Woodrow Wilson, brother-in-law of the bride. The ushers were Sgt. Bill Duggan, Newtonbrook, and Rtn. K. Wilcox, Midland. Presiding at the organ was Mr. George E. Richardson. The soloist, Miss Betty Hope, sang, "O Promise Me."

In the Sunday-school rooms of the church, Mrs. Bostwick, mother of the bride, received wearing navy blue raimine crepe with a corsage of red roses. She was assisted by Mrs. R. Wells, sister of the groom, wearing a navy two-piece suit and a corsage of red roses.

RETURNS FROM CRUISE
IN MEDITERRANEAN

Bill Burrows, a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. Belfry, Aurora, and Mrs. Wm. Burrows, Newmarket, has arrived home safely from a round trip on a Norwegian merchant marine ship. His ship left New York in November, 1943, called at various ports in the Mediterranean, and then returned to New York.

Their convey was attacked by submarines. One ship was sunk and another was badly damaged. Mr. Burrows' ship will be in the dry-dock in New York for several months. In the meantime he has taken a position as cook for the staff at a summer hotel, where he was assistant to the chef for the guests last year.

FATHER OF GROOM
PERFORMS WEDDING

White lilacs and spring flowers decorated King Baptist church on Saturday for the marriage of Ruth Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Larkin to LAC William Frank Mesley, Capt. the Rev. W. F. Mesley, father of the groom, officiated, assisted by Rev. H. Wilson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gownned in white brocade satin, with full length tulle illusion veil. She carried cream roses. Her only attendant was her cousin, Miss Dorthea Feaver, who wore a lilac sheer floor-length gown and matching headpiece. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of spring flowers.

Victor Mesley, brother of the groom, was best man. During the signing of the register he sang "O Perfect Love." Rosa Boval and George Mesley were ushers.

At the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Larkin received the guests. She wore a two-piece afternoon dress of soldier blue and a corsage of red roses.

The mother of the groom wore a green and white pastel dress and a corsage of yellow roses.

Later the bride changed to a Bermuda tan and white dress with matching accessories.

Create No Parking Area
To Reduce Bus Hazard

A no-parking area will be established "on both sides of Yonge St. opposite the post office to enable buses to park against the curb without creating a traffic hazard by double parking."

Aurora town council accepted this recommendation from Councillor Thomas Swindle, chairman of the by-laws and industrial committee, at a meeting on Monday evening. Another recommendation accepted was that 50 copies of the illustrated Aurora booklets be sent to Ontario House in London, England, for distribution to interested industrialists.

The council was informed that Councillor Robert Thomson did not intend to withdraw his resignation.

Mayor Ross Linton said that he did not think that the cost of an election should influence the council in any action it might take.

Solicitor L. C. Lee said that in filling a vacancy there would be no cost except advertising unless there were two or more candidates for the vacancy.

"If there is an election that shows that there is interest, and that the vacancy should be filled," said Mayor Linton.

"We went 23 years without six members," commented Reeve C. E. Sparks.

It was stated that Councillor Fred Rowland had been absent from several meetings because of poor health but hoped to be able to attend the next meeting. The council decided to take no action at the present time regarding Mr. Thomson's resignation.

WATER SHORTAGE CAUSES
Concern To Councillors

A group of Aurora firemen are visiting Toronto some evening this week to inspect firefighting equipment, to help them decide some of the details about the town's new fire truck.

Deputy-Reeve A. A. Cook suggested the Toronto visit when Fire Chief Harry Jones discussed with the council on Monday evening whether the new truck should have a cab or not. Chief Jones said that the firemen did not want a cab.

"As the cost of cutting off the cab is $90, we should be sure that that is what is wanted," said Mayor Ross Linton.

The council voted $100 toward the expenses of Mr. Jones and Stewart Patrick attending the Dominion Fire Chiefs' Association convention for four days in Quebec city.

Stating that he did not think that the expense would be justified by the information acquired at the convention, Mayor Linton expressed opposition to the grant.

Councillor A. N. Fisher, chairman of the fire and water committee, recommended supplying water for a kitchen tap for a resident outside the municipal boundaries.

"It looks kind of funny giving water outside the town when we can't supply water in town," said Mayor Linton.

Reeve C. E. Sparks asked if the Yonge St. well had been completed and was told not.

"It is just during the last two weeks that we are short of water," said Deputy-Reeve A. A. Cook. "We need more wells."

Mayor Linton thought that the town also needed additional reservoir capacity.

Asked by councillors, Clerk A. C. A. Willis informed the council that the Collis Leather Co. used 2,210,000 gallons of water in May at a price of $180. He said that St. Andrew's college used 2,204,000 gallons in three months but would not be using water during the summer holidays.

Mayor Linton said that the gold course would be using water.

"I don't think that the golf course should have water when the citizens aren't allowed it for their lawns," said Reeve Sparks.

It was stated that the golf club use of water was not substantial. The council did not adopt the recommendation to allow water to an outside resident. Action is being taken to secure completion of the Yonge St. well.

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Era and Express: In an address given at St. Paul's church by Mr. McCulley on Sunday, May 14, excellent in many ways, it is certainly marred by the paragraph (as reported) containing the statement, "We follow the line of a Jewish carpenter's son."

When I see in print or hear from the pulpit such statements as Christ being a Jewish carpenter or the son of a Jewish carpenter, I see red, and will take issue with anyone on this subject. There is not the slightest evidence in the Bible for such statements, and taken at face value, they cast doubts on the virgin birth and divinity of Christ.

Matthew (1: 18-25) fully deals with this, physically as well as spiritually. Nothing could be plainer than verses 21-23. Joseph took Mary to wife as the angel of the Lord had bidden him and knew her not until she had brought forth her first-born son, and he called his name Jesus.

Luke 1: 26-35 gives the maternal evidence. Verse 34 states, "Then said Mary unto the angel, how shall this be, seeing I know not a man?" Verse 35: "And the angel answered and said unto her, the Holy Ghost shall come upon thee and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: wherefore also that holy thing born of thee SHALL be called the Son of God."

I cannot find this Jewish carpenter stuff anywhere. On the side of lineage, Joseph came from the Solomon and Mary from Nathan, both sons of David of direct Hebrew descent, not Jewish. The first recording of the name Jew is II Kings 16: 6.

The birth of Christ fulfils Isa. 7:14 prophecy. Behold a virgin shall conceive and bear a son and shall call his name Immanuel (God with us). John 1: 14 describes Him as Logos, the word which became flesh and referring to the creation. John declares the Word (Jesus Christ) was present at the creation with God and the word was God (He who made God). He was made flesh.

When Jesus declared that the Father and I are one. He stated the fact they were one in purpose and action, Father and Son united in the God-head.

Christ appeared many times in Old Testament days to Abraham, Moses and others, but space forbids so we will only use one more quotation, John 8: 56-58. Jesus said to the Jews on this occasion, "Your Father Abraham rejoiced to see my day and he saw it and was glad. Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham?" Jesus said unto them, verily, verily, I say unto you, before Abraham was, I am (Jehovah, Old Testament).

The Jews knew the reply was the same as given to Moses by the angel that appeared to him in the burning bush, Ex. 3: 14. But they did not know and would not be told that the Jesus who stood before them was the same I am (Jehovah) who appeared as the angel of the Lord to Moses in the burning bush and they sought to stone Him and kill Him.

Much more could be written regarding Old Testament manifestations but until these truths are fully recognized by the various churches there can be no unity now or ever. People will believe that Hitler is an Austrian paper-hanger because the papers say so. They believe Christ is a Jew because the preacher says so and probably would believe the only logical conclusion of this kind of theology, that the whole Trinity must be Jewish.

If the husbandman, through carelessness or any other cause, stunts the vine, he is responsible for the weak branches and poor fruit and the responsibility is very great. Christ proved his pre-existence and his prayer in John 17 should be sufficient beyond doubt as in verse 5 He says, "O Father glorify Thou Me with Thine own self with the glory which I had with Thee before the world was."

It is our preachers and educators like Pilate who say that Christ was a Jew, and this reply still stands for them today, "Thou sayest

Youth Delights in Walking CLOSE TO THE EDGE OF THINGS

Canada's young men and women face up to the risks of life and ask no safeguard against failure. Youth simply does not intend to fall.

What they do expect is the right to organize their own lives in their own way; the freedom to grasp opportunity and make the most of it on their own initiative; the privilege of voluntary co-operation with others. These are the things that open the treasures of life to them.

It's adventurous living—but they would not have it otherwise. Youth asks for opportunity. Not with bravado or with bluster, but with courageous confidence, they set out on life's journey.

During its 89 years of public service, this Bank has been privileged to lend the helping hand of friendly counsel and timely support to untold thousands of such young Canadians. This kind of voluntary team-play is essential to keep opportunity free, encourage self-reliance and urge on to new achievement every enterprising man and woman. This is what has built and can continue to build a better Canada for all.

The Milking Stool

Another Symbol of the HARD WAY Becomes a Relic

One by one the time-taking, tiring and tiresome hand labor chores of the farm have been eliminated by a machine that does the work easier, quicker and more profitably.

The milking stool for instance has long been a symbol of the hard way to do a job. But more and more dairymen are spending less time on milking stools now. Shortage of help and pressure of work have emphasized the value of using machines instead of muscles wherever possible, and dairymen have found the answer in the mechanical milking machine.

Because the purchase of a milking machine saved them hours of time and labor, thousands of dairymen have been able to carry on and benefit from the great demand for dairy products in recent years. "Hand milking" is out for them now that they have experienced the comfort and convenience of a mechanical milker.

In the progress that Canadian agriculture has made in improved methods and practices, equipment engineered and manufactured by Massey-Harris has played an important part. Among the time and labor saving machines your local Massey-Harris dealer has to offer is the Rile Way Milker. Make it a point to ask him for full particulars.

SPORTS...

FROM WHERE WE SIT
By DEL. GIBNEY

Ladies' softball is coming back to town once again with a four-team league composed of Dixon Pencil Co., Office Specialty, Davis Leather and the Town.

It is not expected that the league will get under way until the middle of the month, as each team needs a few practice games.

The playgrounds at the Stuart Scott school present a busy scene with midget and bantam hardballers and lady softballers working out.

The grounds are far from being in shape and it is hoped that a few sport-loving fans will turn out and give a hand in preparing the field.

What a grand thing if the town would take care of the play grounds and keep them in respectable condition as a recreation centre.

Along with the Lions park, the bowling green and the tennis courts, the ball grounds are a wonderful asset to the town.

All ladies wishing to play ball please leave names with The Era and Express or yours truly this weekend, as practice begins next week.

A meeting to organize the league and elect an executive will be held in the council chambers (tomorrow) Friday evening. All interested please be on hand at 8 p.m.

TALES MILK BOTTLE
MONEY, GETS 30 DAYS

In York county magistrate's court in Newmarket on Tuesday Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe sentenced Melville John Foster, no address, to a term of 30 days in jail on a charge of vagrancy. In court last week Chief Constable James Sloss, Newmarket, testified that he had seen the defendant running along the railroad tracks at 2 a.m. on May 27 and had brought him to the police station for questioning. The officer stated that the defendant admitted stealing milk from milk bottles.

Chief Sloss said that Foster had no address but had some time previously lived in Aurora. Neither was he employed in any kind of work.

"What's the matter with you, don't you want to work?" his worship asked the accused.

"It depends on the kind of work that I get," replied Mr. Foster.

"There is no reason why a young fellow like you shouldn't work in these times," commented his worship. "You'd rather go around stealing from other people who do work."

Considerable debate as to what constitutes theft arose when Crown Attorney Arleigh Armstrong and Defence Counsel Lorne C. Lee, Aurora, argued the case of Robert Edward Huntley, Newmarket. The defendant pleaded not guilty to a charge of stealing a car valued at $150, the property of Bruce Phillips, Newmarket.

Mr. Lee contended that Mr. Huntley had no intention of stealing the car when he took it from the side of Mr. Phillips' home. He argued also that the defendant had received permission from Mr. Phillips' brother to take the car. The crown argued that the owner had given no permission for the defendant to take the car and therefore the latter had committed the offence of theft. Mr. Huntley was fined $10 and costs with an alternative of 30 days in jail.

According to Bruce Phillips, he and Mr. Huntley had traded cars. The licenses had been transferred and properly endorsed previous to the actual handing over of the cars on May 25. He said that he left the car which he had received parked at the side of his house until his return to town on May 27. When he returned the car was gone and he contacted the police.

When Chief Sloss notified him that he had located the car he went to the police station where he and Mr. Huntley came to an agreement concerning the traded cars. It was decided that he was to get the car which Mr. Huntley traded with him after certain gadgets had been removed. The witness went on to say that after leaving the station he asked his brother to take the car home for him. Later he learned that the defendant had again taken the car. He then laid a charge against Mr. Huntley.

Mr. Huntley stated that he had traded his car with that of Mr. Phillips but later found that the car which he had received was not in good condition. He said that he had taken it to Toronto and that on the way it had stopped several times. When he returned to Newmarket he took the car he had traded from the side of Mr. Phillips' house, as he needed it to get to Toronto. He said that he told Mr. Phillips' brother that he was taking the car and would straighten it out with him on Saturday when he returned from Toronto. He said that after coming to the agreement in the police station he decided to "tight the case," so kept the car.

"You refused to turn over the car to Phillips after you left the police station," asked his worship.

The defendant admitted that this was the case.

Called to the stand Carl Phillips, brother of Bruce, denied giving the defendant permission to take the car.

"I think that when the accused said that he decided to fight the case, it showed his mental attitude in taking the car," commented Magistrate Woodliffe. "I find on the evidence that you, Huntley, are guilty of taking a car without the owner's consent and there will be a conviction."

Found guilty of having beer in his car at Riveredge Park, North Gwillimbury, Lloyd Wright, 231 Howland Ave., Toronto, was fined $10 and costs. The defendant pleaded guilty to the charge.

According to Constable Carl Morton, North Gwillimbury, on May 28 at about 11 p.m. he observed Mr. Wright in a car which was parked in Riveredge Park and upon investigating found a case with four pint bottles of beer and a number of empty bottles. Magistrate Woodliffe ordered that the beer be confiscated.

His worship found Richard Saint, Bradford, guilty of failing to produce a commercial vehicle operator's permit at the request of the police officer and told J. Rafferty, Brampton, guilty of having inefficient brakes on his car and fined each $10 and costs. Both charges were laid by County Constable Ronald Watt.

For having insufficient lights on his car Howard Lehman, Newmarket, was fined $1 and costs. Constable James P. Leeder laid the charge.

Three Toronto defendants were fined $1 and costs each when Constable George Foster, Georgina township, laid charges against them for failing to stop their cars on entering the highway. They were Donald B. J. Henry, John William Thompson and Edna Byron Kennedy.

H. Hunt. Mr. Raymond Stanley and Miss Hobbah Starr spent Friday at Wilcox lake.

Mrs. Switzer and Miss Erma Taylor, Toronto, visited at the Earl Toole home over the weekend. On Sunday they accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Toole and family to visit Mr. and Mrs. Barker, Zephyr.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam. Crew, Oranmore, Mrs. S. J. Crew and Little Murray Crew, Toronto, and Mrs. B. Moore and baby, Johnny, York Mills, were Thursday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sheridan.
